Hi Claudia,

That sounds like a good plan. I have not updated the schedule recently, the one on the I drive is the most recent. We can certainly regroup when I get back and we have a better feel for the comments. Carl and I can also chat with OGC if needed to move Rick's review more quickly. Let's plan on chatting on Friday (if you are in, I can't remember) or Monday. If you need anything to move in the meantime, feel free to chat with Carl.

Thanks,

Dee

Hi, Dee,

Most people's comments are in on the Sharepoint now, and we are waiting on Mike Boydston and Rick Vetter to finish commenting. I can start going through comments and making a list of major comments we need to address that involve additional research and think about how to split up the tasks. I was curious if you had modified the schedule at all since we talked about needing to include additional items in there and not just completion of certain reviews. For instance, when should we have something ready to send to OAR to complete concurrence? When should we be sending a package to OMB? We currently have in the schedule to complete OAR review by 11/20/15. We may not be able to get comments addressed by then, depending on what it will take to address Rick Vetter's comments and the more substantive comments we have already received.

Thanks,

Claudia
